EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE HEAD OF LOUISE

Music Section Entertained by Misses Daniels and Champlain

Club Colors, Green and Gold Predominated in the Beautiful Floral Decorations

The music section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club were guests at their meeting yesterday afternoon of Miss Eva Daniels and Miss Gertrude Champlain at the home of the former, 324 West Colorado street.

The club colors, green and gold, predominated in the beautiful floral decorations of the rooms where the hostesses received their guests, long sprays of bridal wreath being used also, by way of contrast.

The spring note was further emphasized in the musical numbers arranged for the "open day" of the section. Miss Edith Salyer's singing of Sanderson's "Spring's Awakening," was as inspiring as the voice of spring herself, and so delighted her audience that she was forced to respond to an encore, with Lisa Lehmann's "Daddy's Sweetheart."

Reba Phillips, in her rendition of Saint-Saens "Swan Song," showed remarkable promise as a pianist, playing the difficult number with a precision of technique and a musical sympathy noteworthy in a girl of 15. Insistent applause brought her back to play as an encore a difficult Debussy number, which she gave with equal perfection.

Mrs. Helen Graham Cole's lovely soprano, was delightful, as usual, in Prindle's "Winds From the South" and "A Scotch Croon," by Moffatt.

Mrs. Frank Arnold announced that the organization at her home, 211 East Lomita avenue, of the juvenile music club (which is to be a part of Glendale Music Club), on Saturday, April 2. All children in Glendale between the ages of six and 14 are eligible. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones will be the speaker. The meeting will take place at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. George H. Doane of Los Angeles, spoke most interestingly on Bach's Passion Music, which, according to long-ordained custom is always played in continental Europe on Good Friday. Mrs. Doane, besides this interesting talk, also contributed to the program two much enjoyed piano numbers, Gihennis' "Mysterie" and Grieg's "Birdling."

There was an unusually large attendance at this meeting.

The refreshments served by the hostess were in keeping with the other delightful features of the afternoon. Mrs. G. Phillips, Miss Daniels' sister, was assistant hostess.

The curator, Mrs. Charles L. Marlenee, announced the meeting of the National Convention of Music Clubs, May 1 to May 4, speaking especially of the program of the opening evening, which will portray the history of church music.

At Halle the electric and water plants are again being operated and the government forces are firmly in control.

Government troops that recaptured Eisleben from the communists yesterday, are still occupying the city. The communists there sought to negotiate with the government before troops attacked the city, but the government's answer was an ultimatum that the communists must lay down their arms.

According to the Lokal Anzeiger the authorities discovered a plot to blow up police headquarters in Berlin. The police are said to have found a huge supply of dynamite which the plotters planned to use.

BROWN AND WATSON ELECTED TRUSTEES

Largest Vote Ever Polled in District—All Candidates Make Good Showing

Never before had Glendale witnessed such a school election as took place Friday at the high school. Two candidates were to be elected to the high school board of trustees to fill vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of office of Dr. L. A. Bryant and S. W. Shaull, who declined to be candidates for reelection.

In a district the size of this high school district and representing as large a disbursement of funds, it is no snap to be a trustee. The office carries no salary and whatever action the board may agree to take on any important question before it to be decided is sure to meet with criticism in some quarter. Under these circumstances Glendale is to be congratulated upon having four public-spirited citizens who consented to allow their names to be used as candidates, and any one of whom would have filled the office competently and conscientiously. These four men were Dr. H. V. Brown, Captain T. D. Watson, C. L. Chandler and W. R. Phelon. As soon as the polls opened voters began streaming in, and they continued in increasing numbers until the doors were closed at 6 p. m. At one time during the afternoon 50 voters deposited ballots inside of 15 minutes, and the clerks of election had no time to loaf on the job. In all 1272 votes were deposited in the high school ballot box.

The votes were about evenly divided between men and women, many husbands and wives coming together.

The vote in detail was as follows:

Glendale, Brown 824, Watson 806, Chandler 475, Phelon 419.

Tujunga, Brown 83, Watson 57, Chandler 21, Phelon 15.

La Crescenta, Brown 15, Watson 15.

Eagle Rock, Brown 54, Watson 49, Chandler 35, Phelon 22.

Total vote: Brown 977, Watson 928, Chandler 531, Phelon 456.

BUSTER KEATON AT PALACE GRAND

"The Haunted House," a picture in which uproarious mishaps in the realm of ghosts and counterfeiters take place, is enough to make a wooden Indian smile.

The fun is fast and furious and of a kind to amuse everyone, from the youngsters to the most serious grown-ups. It's a picture that banishes gloom and creates a genial frame of mind.

The feature attraction is Bert Lytell in "The Misleading Lady," a picture rich in humor, with never a slow moment.

Proposed Bond Issues as Affecting Taxation

By T. W. WATSON, City Manager

The following statement in regard to the city's bonding capacity and the amount of outstanding bonds together with the proposed issues and the tax rate necessary to support these bonds is published herewith as a matter of public information:

Special attention is called to the fact that the larger portion of the present outstanding bonds, as well as those proposed, will be supported from the revenues of the water and light business and not by taxation. The tax rates set forth herein are based on last year's assessed valuation, which was $9,384,535. It should be borne in mind, however, that this valuation will increase materially as the city grows and thereby increase the city's bonding capacity.

Present Bonding Capacity

The present bonding capacity based on the above assessed valuation is $1,407,680.25. Against that there are bonds outstanding of $622,625. Of this amount $66,125 is general bonds, principal and interest on which is paid by tax levy. The maximum levy on any portion of the city necessary to take care of this is 20 cents per each $100 of the assessed valuation. Lately annexed sections of the city pay none of this. There are $70,500 of electric light bonds outstanding; principal and interest on these is paid from the revenues of the electric light business. There are $486,000 of water bonds outstanding; principal and interest on these is met from the revenues of the water business.

The proposed issues total $275,000. The proposed issues for parks $66,000. This will require on the basis of 30-year bonds at 6 per cent, figured on last year's assessed valuation, a tax rate of 6½ cents per each $100 of assessed valuation. It is probable that a 5 cent tax based on next year's valuation will carry these bonds.

Bonds for Gymnasium

The proposed issue of $83,000 for gymnasium based on 30-year bonds at 6 per cent, figured on last year's valuation, will require a tax rate of 8¼ cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.

If these two proposed issues carry a tax rate of 24 cents, will meet principal and interest on all outstanding bonds of the City of Glendale that are not taken care of otherwise. It is probable, however, that the rate based on next year's valuation will be approximately 20 cents and in those portions of the city not taxed for present outstanding bonds the tax rate for bonds will be between 10 and 14 cents.

Proposed Water Bonds

The $100,000 of proposed water bonds will be supported entirely from the revenues of the water department, provided the entire amount is devoted to distribution mains. If Proposition No. 1 should be determined as the policy of financing service mains and 40 per cent of the $100,000 be devoted to the installation of service mains, then the $60,000 devoted to distribution mains would be supported entirely from the revenues of the water business and the $40,000 devoted to service mains would be supported by general tax levy. If, however, Proposition No. 2 should be determined as the policy of financing service mains then the entire $100,000 would be devoted to distribution mains and supported entirely from the revenue of the water business.

The proposed $26,000 bond issue for warehouse, garage and material yards will be supported by the annual budget and will not require a special tax to meet principal and interest thereon.

RECENT WINDS PIKERS COMPARED TO FORMER

Judge Lowe says the winds the past few days have been bad enough, but they have been only about one-quarter as severe as the winds that blew here 35 years ago, that used to come over the Cajon pass. Then it was no uncommon thing for wind to get under a tin roof, roll it into a scroll and toss it into the alley. More than once when a northeaster blew he had to throw himself flat upon the ground and lock his arms around a tree to keep from being blown away. Trees were denuded of foliage and bark by the combined action of wind and sand in those days, and he recalled in particular such a storm which occurred while he was in London and which was featured in big headlines in the London papers as "Devasfation of the San Fernando Valley." It cost him considerable money to exchange cablegrams with his family to ascertain their safety

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR F. DUNSFORD

F. Dunsford was a very much surprised and delighted man Thursday evening. Truly it was his birthday and he and Mrs. Dunsford had been invited by Mrs. C. B. Schaffer of 1531 San Fernando road, an old friend back in the home state, Missouri, for dinner, but he did not expect to find the large crowd of friends gathered to wish him happy returns of the day. Mr. Dunsford feels sad now to think that birthdays come but once a year. The table, with covers for 14, was decorated befitting the festive occasion and of all the good things to eat, my, my! and there were two great big lovely birthday cakes. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dunsford, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelso, Mrs. Harry Van Fleet and son, Myles, Misses Flora May and Elizabeth McGee, Maud and Luella Schaffer, Harry Schaffer and the hostess.

HE TORE UP $1000 TO SEE IT BLOW AWAY

(By International News Service)

DENVER, Colo., March 26.—Peter Adamcavich, who carried a passbook from a bank in Hermanie, Pa., has been judged insane by alienists — there was little doubt of the fact in the minds of laymen.

Peter was taken into custody some weeks ago by local police who discovered him tearing up approximately $1000 in United States currency and tossing the bits of paper into the air.

Fragments of the money were picked up and turned over to Federal authorities, who announce that most of it has been pasted together for redemption.

GERMANY CONTAINS ONE BILLIONAIRE

The Fact That in Post-War Germany There Is Such a Person Is Interesting

(By International News Service)

LONDON, March 26.—England is vitaliy interested in Germany's first billionaire. France is even more keenly interested, and makes the fact that the post-war Germany can create a billionaire a part of her argument that "Germany Can Pay."

He is Hugo Stinnes, coal and industrial magnate, publisher extraordinary, and, if some reports are to be believed, virtual dictator of Germany today.

He came into international prominence in the sense that he first came prominently into the world news during the Spa conference when he stood up with sharpness and bluntness against the allied conference, then attempting regulation and increase of Germany's coal deliveries under the peace treaty.

But before that he had been of daily growing importance in European news, for he was emerging from the comparative nonentity of his financial dominance into the world of politics, through his purchase of newspapers throughout Germany He is popularly credited with control of more than 60 newspapers.

It is no secret that the intelligence services of the allies has had him under review, so to speak, long before this. They promptly made further inquiries when he launched his newspaper buying campaign. And since that time the press of England has become a self-appointed watchdog of the doings of the German Rockefeller. His movements are frequently chronicled His new combines of capital and industrial resources are always printed. They have been numerous. It is perhaps no exaggeration to estimate that at least once a week, during the past few months, some item of news has come out of Germany which tells of an important financial move by Stinnes, each time along the trust building line so familiar in America a score of years or more ago. There are even reports that the workers of the various Stinnes undertakings are trying to form, not trades unions in the ordinary sense of unifying workers of single trade into single countrywide unions, but an amalgamation, or a federation of all the local unions whose members are working for Stinnes.

Is Dominating Factor

Taken in the mass, the fragmentary information about the German super-magnate paints a picture of awesome size. Whatever the governments think, and they at least consider him a dominating factor in European affairs, the press is keeping tabs on Stinnes as though he were Wilhelm himself.

The Evening Standard diplomatic correspondent, in fact, goes so far as to say that he is the one man in Germany today who has power and influence comparable to that of the ex-kaiser in the old days of his Potsdam sojourn.

The Daily Chronicle, official organ of the present coalition government of England, through its Berlin correspondent, casts frequent limelight on the new billionaire, also carrying on, simultaneously, a series of revelations regarding Germany's revival of trade. It records a record year on the stock exchange, millions being poured through investments into new projects, the formation of a shipping trust and many more items of similar kind.

The Times, adopting the French view, declares that the fact that Germany can produce Stinneses, Mennesmanns, Thusens and Krupps, of vast and increasing income and who are piling up new capital, proves that Germany can pay a large sum in indemnities.

Other papers point out that before the war there were scarcely more than a hundred Germans, outside the Hohenzollern family, rated as worth a million marks or more, while now there are more than a thousand.

Without bias it may be said that it is difficult to weigh and determine the truth of everything one reads, or is told, in these days.

But out of it all, the one safe bet is that Hugo Stinnes, Germany's first billionaire, is an object of much keen interest, careful observation and much speculation in England.

WHERE IS "COLE" STREET?

A certain Glendale minister has made a decided impression on one business house in Los Angeles, anyway, since a letter was received yesterday by an officer of the Central Christian Bible School, addressed to the church, Cole and Louise streets. Not "Colo." or "Colorado," but plain "Cole."

The River Moselle, a tributary of the Rhine, is known as the "Bride of the Rhine."

TO HOLD COTTAGE PRAYER MEETINGS

Cottage prayer meetings are to be held in all parts of Glendale for the next three weeks preparatory to the coming of Rev. John Brown and his party to hold special evangelistic meetings. The committee in charge have districted the city, and beginning with next Tuesday night there will be held a large number of meetings in the homes. Many of the places will be announced at the church services Sunday; and a full list will be given through the city papers on Monday and Tuesday. The plan is to hold these prayer meetings on Tuesday and Thursday night of each week, until the 17th of April. The meeting will not be long, and will be open to every one. Watch for the list of places, and then go to the one nearest your home.

SCHOOL REOPENING NEXT MONDAY

Classes will be resumed Monday at the high school which will continue in session until the close of the school year, June 17. School officials hope to begin using the new buildings in about two weeks.

U. S. CENSUS REVEALS PATHETIC STORY

Every 10 years our government spends millions of dollars to take a census of the people and what they are doing. It is a costly undertaking, but it is worth much more than it costs.

Important conclusions are gleaned from the figures gathered because the data is accurate and scientific. These facts become a basis for remedial legislation and for various movements for the uplift of the nation and the race.

These facts may interest you:

Seven-eighths of all the money left by married men in America for their dependents is derived from life insurancee.

Eighty-two per cent of the value of combustible property is insured against fire, but only—

Seven per cent of the economic value of human life is covered by insurance.

Ninety per cent of the men engaged in active business fail to reach old age with a competence.

Nineteen out of every 20 persons fail to provide for their old age or for their families.

With the result that—

Eight million women are forced to earn a living.

Thirty-five per cent of the widows of the country are in want.

Ninety per cent of American widowhood lacks life's common comforts.

Eighty-two per cent of the children of the country are forced to leave school before completing the eighth grade to aid in making a living for the family.

The census shows also that the family protected by a fraternal contract is not broken up, nor the children taken from school by the death of the bread-winner.—Friend and Guide.

SPEED AND ABILITY TO KEEP UP RACE

"Time and tide wait for no man," and it takes speed and real ability to keep up in the race. The passing of time serves either to confirm a standard claim or to destroy it. And so it is that some houses of business grow, while others fade to insignificance.

"Each passing year has but served to confirm Hudson supremacy," said one enthusiastic owner of a Hudson motor car. "I like it because for years it has maintained its place as one of the world's largest selling fine cars. The wonderful records it has made for years past still stand unequaled, and this fact gives Hudson owners wonderful faith in their cars.'

Just last month Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Wright, of the Wright Music Publishing Co., started eastward over the National Old Trails to travel over the entire United States with a new song just out. They are making every city of any importance and all stops between, and just the other day R. C. Chambers, of Chambers & Felts, dealers in Hudson automobiles in Glendale, received word that the trip is coming along finely with their Hudson 6-40.

NEW MODEL DORT IS ON DISPLAY

The spirit of rejoicing pervades the atmosphere of C. A. Wishart & Son's Dort and Reo agency, for the new model Dort is on display. It is meeting with a most enthusiastic reception. And indeed it should, as it has "class" written all over it.

The distinctive new lines are those which we have from past experience learned to associate only with the most costly of cars.

According to C. R. Anders, sales manager of the organization, the only fly in the ointment is the difficulty experienced in procuring deliveries. This is a trouble which most dealers have not lately experienced, but curtailed factory production and increasing demand combine to make it advisable for the man who would motor this summer to get his order in without delay.

SIGNIFICANCE OF EASTER

The ideas associated with Easter apart from the religious significance of the day are hard to understand until one traces its origin to the pagan spring festival in honor of Estere, a Saxon goddess to whom scarifices were made about the same time in the year as the passover. Hence, when Christianized, these pagans were permitted to keep their festival but with a new dress and new significance.

Ac a festival of sprping and awakening life the eggs and little chicks, the butterflies and bunnies seem entirely appropriate, and along with these comes the suggsetion of new plumage for the birds. It is but a step further to new garbing for the human who rejoices in a risen Lord and in nature's renewal.

The pagan custom of sacrifice has also been carried over and our Easter gifts upon the altar represent some sacrifice upon our part. But here too the gift thought has been extended and we exchange presents with each other suitable to the season —flowers, of which the ascension lily, and in fact all the lily family, head the list. Then conie printed messages of faith and cheer. The kind of gift depends largely on the relationship. Every wise husband knows that an Easter hat is the most welcome gift he can make his spouse at this season. But even mere men have a sneaking fondness for remembrances and have been known to accept silk stockings, gloves, neckties and such other adornments as would make them fit company for the female of the species.

With Easter so near it is a satisfaction to see our shop windows beautiful with specialties for Easter gifts. Never has Glendale seen such an array of beautiful apparel as is to be seen in the windows of its houses of merchandise, such beautiful Easter cards and stationery, such alluring offerings in jewelry, nor such a wealth of flowers for gifts or decoration, tall Easter lilies, Lilies of the Valley, and all the lovely denizens of the garden.

Glendale is coming on and never have its shops been so metropolitan or alluring as they are this Eastertide.

WHY? HOW? WHEN? WHERE?

A successful man whom I know recently changed from a business with which he was thoroughly familiar to a business that he knew absolutely nothing about.

I watched to see what he would do.

For two solid weeks he did nothing but ask questions.

He took a train to Washington to learn what information the government had on trade conditions in the new field.

He visited around among jobbers and manufacturers; he even went to the company's strongest competitors.

Everywhere asking questions. It was simply amazing t amount of useful data that he was able to dig out.

Curiosity is a human characteristic that has been much maligned. Men speak of it slightingly, as if it were something to be ashamed of; a weakness to be repressed.

My own idea is that when a man gets beyond the point of asking questions, he might as well be dead.

Without curiosity there would be no growth, no progress.—Bruce Barton.

OBJECTION NOT SUSTAINED

Was Willie right or not, in going before Judge Weyl in the Juvenile Court of Los Angeles yesterday?

Willie Abraham was sick. His mother prepared a dose of castor oil for him. Willie rebelled. His mother insisted. Willie declared he would rather face the judge of the Juvenile Court than take castor oil.

"Very well, then, Willie," said his mother. "I will see the judge."

She did. She called on Judge Weyl yesterday and put the matter before him.

Now because Willie was on probation to the Juvenile Court for some dereliction, Judge Weyl made an order that Willie should obey his mother, which was one of the conditions of his probation.

The mother showed Willie the order, which she interpreted to mean that he was compelled to take the oil. Willie did.

CALIFORNIA PATRONAGE CONFERENCE

Fray Benjamin, chairman of the State Republican committee of California and in charge of the western headquarters of the Republican National committee, is in Washington in conference with Senator Johnson and Senator Shortridge regarding the patronage in California. He is expected to remain there several days in conference with the California Senators and other party leaders in an effort to make a definite slate for the appointments to go to California. There are plenty of applicants for places all over the state, and in Southern California there is no indication of bashfulness.

MRS. A. R. CHAPPELL HOSTESS YESTERDAY

Mrs. A. R. Chappell, 338 Vine street, was hostess yesterday to the Pioneer Drive Club at a prettily appointed two-course luncheon.

Yellow blossoms were used in the decoration of the home and the same glorious, golden color motif was carried out in the favors, place cards and refreshments. Sewing and conversation whiled away the afternoon hours.

Mrs. L. B. Abell was the special guest of the club. Others who enjoyed the pleasant party were Mmes. F. R. Frazee, J. W. Andree, J. D. Vinton, R. E. Frye, Mary Grigg, T. V. Potter, C. M. Van Dyke, Mrs. Challis, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Whitaker, H. S. Bullinger and the hostess.

BODY FOUND ON SHORE OF SLOUGH

EUREKA, March 26.—The mystery of the disappearance on March 8 of M. J. Neilsen, one of the heaviest individual buyers of liberty bonds in this section, was solved today with the finding of the body on the shore of a slough. A heavy weight attached to his neck by a rope indicated he had carried out suicidal intentions expressed in a note which had been found in his room at the time of his disappearance. He was about 55 years of age and had been in poor health. A nephew named Neilsen, believed to reside in Chicago, is the only known heir. In addition to his bonds, Nielsen had several thousand dollars cash to his credit in local banks.

MODERN MAIDS ARE CLEANEST

By EARL C. REEVES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

LONDON, March 26.—Elinor Glyn reported to be resting somewhere in California, had better bide a while, in the opinion of Miss Edith Shackleton.

Quite a bunch of very modern young ladies may give her a reception if she returns just now.

The famous novelist has said something which Miss Shackleton and other very modern young laides interpret as inferring, if not saying bluntly, that women aren't as clean as they used to be. She is revolted by modern females "puffing smoke at you, and quite disgusting, to one sense or another, to be near." She holds up in contrast the woman of the beginning of this century 'refined to their lovely finger tips, gentle voices, perfect scents and clothes and manners, exquisitely fresh creatures whom it was obvious that a man would want to kiss."

"Mrs. Glyn," says Edith Shackleton, writing with spirit in the Daily Sketch, "is a courageous woman to make such charges, even from the distance of California. I should not be at all surprised to hear of her being attacked by thousands of indignant young women armed with hatpins, and buried under a mountain of bath salts and tooth powder, after being severely prodded by a million orange sticks, for to say that the women of 1921 is personally less dainty than her predecessor of 1901 is about as easily defensible as saying that a medieval castle was more hygienic than Middlesex hospital.

Sure She Takes Bath

"It could never have been more difficult for the uninitiated to decide whether a girl in evening dress was bound for a ball or for a bath than it is in London today, but, at any rate, she has had the bath. It would be too obvious if she hadn't.

"An efficient bath, too. Almost any London business girl of today is better bathed than, say, Mary, Queen of Scots, was. Mary had a silver bath filled with warm red wine, but it probably wasn't half so effective as the hideous plumbing in our thousands of geyser-filled bathrooms.

"The late Victorian corset alone was enough to have started a pestilence. It was an elaborate, expensive affair. Often it could not have been washed. The modern girl, for all stale smoke, has not a skeleton of that sort in her cupboard."

Then Edith remembers the one-time heroine of romance who, on awakening, was always throwing open the window to let in the pure morning air. Edith sniffs, with her sisters, who "would rather have a snowdrift in the bed than sleep with the windows closed."

No More Camouflage

What do they buy? That is a test of what folks are, says Miss Shackleton. Twenty yeras ago, she finds, they bought frames to puff out the hair, false curls, switches, stiffening for absurd sleeves, binding for horrible street sweeping skirt hems. Nowadays the shop counters are heaped with nail brushes and manicure sets and shampoo powders, while we have no evidence that Juliet even possessed a toothbrush.

"The modern debutante with her airy garment and obvious knees, would wonder what to make of the remark of a zealous chaperone at a Dublin ball in the nineties: "No, Captain. Mary is not for you this polka. I'm keeping her cool for His Excellency.'

"The modern girl of 1921 is the best washed being who has yet joined the human pageant."

SAILOR TORTURED BY BOLSHEVISTS

(By International News Service)

BROOKFIELD, Mo., March 26.—Francis Foreman, a sailor in the U. S. Navy, revealed while on a visit to his home here a story of unspeakable torture while held a prisoner by the Bolsheviki in Russia. Foreman, serving his fourth year in the navy, was captured while carrying a navy message. His companion was shot and Foreman taken prisoner.

The Brookfield lad destroyed the message. His captors then subjected him to a series of tortures in an eort to compel him to reveal its contents. His feet were burned with lighted candles and his chest branded with hot irons. He was held a captive for three months, during which time he lost 95 pounds.

Foreman is now recuperating at an army hospital in Colorado.

ENGLISH LABOR WOMEN TO HOLD CONFERENCE

(By International News Service)

LONDON, March 26.—Under the auspices of the labor party, the Annual Conference of Women will take place in Manchester on April 27 and 28.

Representatives will attend from every women's organization in the United Kingdom and there will also be present representatives from all national organizations affiliated to the labor party which include women members.

All the delegates will be women and it is expected that at least 600 will attend the conference.

This is the first time that a conference of labor women has been held on so large a scale out of London, and it is believed that the central position of Manchester will be of great advantage in bringing women delegates from the north.

TWO FORD MACHINES MEET IN SMASHUP

Two Fords met in battle on San Fernando road this morning and suffered about equally, but neither driver was hurt. J. J. Conley of 306 Clay street, Los Angeles, was driving north and cut the corner to drive west on Cerritos. F. W. Link of Burbank was driving south on his own side of the road and his car was met squarely by Conley's. The fronts of both machines were considerably damaged.

GREAT DEMAND FOR AUTOS REPORTED

"Conditions in many parts of the country are improving. The passing of motor cars into the hands of owners in Chicago and New York is an indication that the business men in those cities who rely on the motor car for transportation in connection with the transaction of their business are experiencing an increase in business, and with this assurance of a change for the better they are taking steps to provide themselves with the motor car equipment they need," says Mr. Tanner of Tanner & Hall, local Buick dealers.

"The purchase of automobiles in the grain country of the Minneapolis territory is an indication that grain is moving, and the growers are purchasing the motor cars they will need to enable them properly to care for and manage their large acreages and so on with the other cities and sections of the country.

"The automobile long ago became indispensable, and today it would be impossible for the world's affairs to be conducted without this mode of transportation, but the prosperity of the automobile industry, like the railroads, the telephone and the telegraph companies, depends upon the prosperity of business in general, and naturally must feel a period of depression when business in general is depressed.

"By reason of the fact that different sections of the country are dependent upon the mining, manufacturing or agricultural pursuits of those particular sections for their prosperity, it often happens that only one section of the country will experience a period of depression as a result of some condition which affects that particular section almost entirely, although every section affects every other to a degree. There was a time when, through lack of rain, a cotton growing section was seriously affected, the cotton crop was a failure, and as a result, that part of the country suffered a depression which was but lightly felt in other sections.

"The present demands, coming as they are from all parts of the country, for increased allotments of cars, are an indication of improving conditions, especially as these reports show that they are rapidly passing into the hands of owners.

"Just as the business depression came on gradually, affecting first one section, then another, so will a return to something like normal conditions be brought about, and as the different industries in various parts of the country gather momentum in their return to normality, the demand for automobiles will increase and there will come a time when the production of cars will not keep up with the improvement of general conditions.

"And by reason of the curtailment of automobile production during the winter months, there will not be the usual reserve supply on hand, and many people will be unable to get the car of their choice."

MRS. H. E. NOBLE IS TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL

Mrs. H. E. Noble, of 337 Jackson street, was taken ill very suddenly last evening at the forum meeting and fainted as she was leaving the dining room with her husband.

Dr. H. V. Brown went to her assistance and later called an ambulance to take her to her home. She is reported to be resting easy this morning; her illness is said to be due either to acute indigestion or a slight attack of ptomaine poisoning.

GREEN & M'CLELLAN'S 'MOTORING MANNERS'

"Moforing Manners" is a subject in which all responsible car owners are interested and drivers probably will be gratified to learn that some of the leading automobile manufacturers of the United States are endeavoring to promote politeness among American motorists.

The need for a thorough observance of the primary rules of motoring courtesy is well known to all who drive. And while there have been many effectual efforts on the part of motor clubs, police and others to create a regard for pedestrians' rights, it is only recently that the urgent need of more politeness among motorists themselves has been given attention.

Green & McClellan, 115 West Harvard street, Glendale, have received from the Oakland Motor Car company, of Pontiac, Mich., a letter in which "driving manners" are discussed. Glendale and vicinity car owners probably will be gratified to learn that a company of Oakland's prominence is lending its weight to ward a national observance of motoring etiquette. This letter says, in part:

"We are all familiar with the 'road hog' of boulevard and country highway, who refuses to give way to the right to permit overtaking cars to pass. In many states today there are strict laws that cover this point. It is your duty to call the violator's attention to his refusal to observe such laws.

"In this respect, as in all others you dealers have a community prestige that should assist you in spreading this doctrine of 'fair play' and good manners. It is not necessary for you to be officious or blatant about it. Cultivate good manners by admiring them. Do not be afraid to compliment or thank a driver who has done any of the little things that good driving etiquette demands. These include stopping to permit another car to turn, slowing down at bad corners, warning of bad or impassable roads ahead, and the like.

"Dealers should, by their own driving, set a standard for others. Especially is this true when driving a demonstrator that bears a 'dealer's license.' Rude, ill-mannered or careless driving of a dealer's car is certain to create a strong resentment in the community for the car and the dealer. Be careful that your drivers are well-mannered. Your demonstrators are good advertisements. Make them even better.

"The road hog's first cousin is the driver who 'cuts in' on another car immediately after passing, thereby forcing the other driver to make a quick swerve to the right to avoid a crumpled or nicked left front fender. In the old bicycle days this offense called for a fight with plenty of outside help for the rider who was fouled."

DAILY PRESS ADS BRING RESULTS

James W. Everington, 123 North Everett street, decided to buy a used car. He was about to board a Los Angeles car to try find one suited to his needs.

"Wait a moment," said his wife, "Here's the Daily Press. Why not look over their used car ads first?"

Mr. Everington took the suggestion. Several of the ads interested him, so he walked downtown to follow them up. In a very short time he had bought a good used Buick.

Mr. Everett saved himself the fatigue and loss of time incident to a trip to Los Angeles; the money he paid for the car was put in circulation here at home; he bought the car from a local merchant, whose reputation for dependability is known to him and to whose interest it was to see that he got good value for his money.

In 1776 floating docks were introduced, and two years later Lombe originated silk-throwing mills.

1200 SIGNPOSTS TO BE ERECTED

Motorists who have never considered Death Valley as anything other than a hot place where borax comes from, will get a shock when they learn that it will soon be a playground for automobile owners.

Officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California yesterday announced that 1200 signposts will be erected within three weeks for the purpose of making Death Valley and the surrounding desert fool-proof, so that no motorists will get lost thereabouts.

This alleged valley of death will lose its terrors for the traveler when these auto club signs are in place. It is the most gigantic signposting project ever attempted in this country, with the exception of marking the transcontinental highways.

Contrary to popular opinion, Death Valley is a scenic spot of great beauty this time of year. According to "Doug" Rhodes, who is in charge of the charting work in this valley, this tour during the spring months equals in some respects a visit to Yellowstone National Park. It is highly probable that thousands of motoring parties will eventually come to visit Death Valley when they learn that the erection of the new metal guide posts precludes any possibility of their losing their way.

Of course, points out the club, it will be impossible to make a pleasure jaunt of a visit to the valley in June, July, August or September, but in the spring the roads are not only in good condition, but the climate is mild and pleasant with the exception of very cold nights.

This wonder valley, which has been maligned largely on account of wild tales brought out by disappointed prospectors or automobile salesmen who wish to advertise the superlative qualities of their cars at the expense of poor old Death Valley. It is really not as bad as it has been painted.

However, before motorists make a visit into this below-sea-level valley they are advised to get detailed information from the nearest automobile club touring bureau, but after April 15th they may be assured that all roads and water holes will be adequately marked in a permanent manner.

America and Not France Wanted War to Continue

By NEWTON C. PARKE
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

PARIS, March 26.—It was America and not France that wished to continue the war and reject Germany's plea for an armistice, according to "Mermeix," an anonymous writer in Revue Universelle, who backs up his assertion with a number of documents including letters, exchanged by then President Poincare and Premier Clemenceau. Marshal Foch, he states, was anxious to save the lives of Allied soldiers and had not the least desire to add to his list of victories a final crushing smash transcending all.

"So far from Colonel House being anxious for an early peace," says Mermeix, "he seems, probably under the inspiration of Pershing and other American generals, to have been opposed to a prolongation of the war for several days or even weeks. At least, that is what is to be inferred from a short conversation he had with Marshal Foch on October 31, before the first meeting of the supreme war council at his house.

Wanted Complete Victory

"'Marshal Foch, the government of the United States will not be satisfied with an uncomplete victory; it is for you to decide if the fighting should continue,' said Colonel House.

"'If the Germans accept the terms we have proposed for an armistice,' replied Foch, 'it is a surrender in the open field. We obtained by this surrender all we possibly could obtain by the greatest of victories. Therefore, I have no right to expose the life of another soldier.'"

"Mermeix" further suggests that there were some fears in Allied circles that when the Americans had the largest army in the field they might have acted independently of their allies.

"If the war had not stopped on November 11, 1918," he observes, "the Americans, who were debarking 250,000 men a month, would soon have had the largest army on the western front. Despite the personal loyalty of General Pershing it might have been difficult not to permit him to assume the independence that many Americans desire to have. The unity of command established by the allies under such trying circumstances and which produced such great results would have been again in question in 1919. In 1919, if Germany had not surrendered, the war would have continued several months."

Trouble Between Leaders

"Mermoix" further declares that Clemenceau once threatened to resign the premiership if President Poincare did not cease to interfere in war affairs which he considered his own prerogative. Differences between the two French leaders, he says, had been brewing a long time and finally came to a head over the armistice. Poincare was very anxious that the armistice should not be concluded too early and enable the Germans to escape the penalties of the war. "Mermeix" states: "On the evening of October 13 M. Poincare forwarded to M. Clemenceau a letter in which he repeated all the objections which he had previously made verbally to an armistice before the victory was decisive, insisting that there was a danger of 'hamstringing' the soldiers if they were pulled up at the height of their elan.

"M. Clemenceau, who, as a rule made no written reply to the letters which the president wrote to him in abundance (as he had done to all his predecessors), this time decided on a reply. In a short note, dated October 14, he protested with vigor against the reproach of exposing the soldiers to being 'hamstrung,' and expressed his astonishment that 'the experience of three years of personal power' had not taught the president that ministers who alone had responsibility (that is to say, could be held accountable) should be allowed to be masters of their own decisions. In conclusion, M. Clemenceau offered his resignation should interventions similar to that against which he protested be repeated.

"The incident had no further development. It could not have, because in October, 1918, M. Clemenceau was the animateur of the whole Entente. His departure would have led to such a crisis that the soldiers, and not only the French troops, would have lost their drive while the morale of the Germans would have been revived."

TO BE BURIED UNDER HIGH ALTAR

Remains of Cardinal Gibbons Will Lie in State Until the Funeral

BALTIMORE, Md., March 26.—With a definite time set for the funeral of Cardinal Gibbons, preparations were under way today for the reception of the distinguished clergy and laymen who will be present at the last sad rites. The body of the late cardinal will rest in the archepiscopal residence until late on Easter Sunday. It then will be removed to the cathedral where the body will lie in state until the close of the funeral services Thursday. The body will then be placed in a niche in the crypt under the high altar where it will remain so long as the present cathedral stands.

Despite the death of Cardinal Gibbons, Baltimore will remain primal see of the Catholic church in the United States, it was stated today. There will be no shift of authority since the choice of a successor to the archbishopric here involved no question of seniority or rank. This means that Baltimore will remain the seat of an archbishopric, a successor to the cardinal to be named by Pope Benedict XV. at some future date from among the bishops or archbishops of the United States. It is believed, however, that the successor to the cardinal as archbishop of Baltimore is not likely to be elevated to the cardinalate in the very near future.

Perhaps within the next six months a new archbishop will have been selected to take over the reins laid down by Cardinal Gibbons with his death yesterday.

The affairs of this archdiocese in the meantime, will be conducted by an administrator. This administrator will be appointed at a special meeting of the consultors of the archdiocese to be held at thhe late cardinal's residence today.

BEAUTIFUL "VAMP" LEADS BANDIT GANG

(By International News Service)

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 26.—The authorities of Salem, Spencer and other towns near here are seeking the beautiful "vamp" who is advance agent for a bandit gang which recently has visited a number of stores in these villages.

The young woman's method of operation is reported to be simple. She visits a store, "vamps" an employe into telling where funds are kept, and then, a night or two later, leads her bandit gang back to obtain the loot.

TO PROBE CASE OF DISABLED VETERANS

(By International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 26.—The board of directors of the International Association of Rotary Clubs has ordered a nation-wide survey of conditions surrounding the care of disabled veterans, "to prove whether American Legion reports are based on hysteria or upon actual facts," according to a letter received at Legion headquarters from Chesley N. Perry, Chicago, secretary-general of the Rotary organization. Mr. Perry said the Rotary board had endorsed the Legion's consolidation program for relief to the disabled and would support the Legion's efforts to obtain its enactment into law. His letter says:

"The 50,000 American business and professional men who form the 800 Rotary clubs of the United States have started out to gather the actual facts in their respective communities with regard to the manner in which the United States government is handling the cases of disabled ex-soldiers. The Rotarians have been shocked by the disclosures made by the American Legion regarding the circumstances surrounding the rehabilitation of Uncle Sam's disabled ex-service men. Each Rotary club is appointing a special committee to investigate conditions in its community and report to the club. Every club will then report to the headquarters office of Rotary in Chicago. The result will be that from 800 communities in every part of the United States will come evidence of business and professional men to prove to the American people whether or not the American Legion reports are based on hysteria or upon actual facts so revolting and heartrending as to cause the whole American people to rise in their might and do justice to the men who sacrificed themselves for their country."

F. W. Galbraith, jr., national commander of the Legion, asserted the Legion welcomed the Rotary investigation.

"I hope its findings will be given the widest publicity," he said. "It will be found the Legion has not overstated the case in any particular."

MOVING ALL RIGHT; LOCATION ALL WRONG

Glendale, March 25, 1921.

Editor Daily Press: The statement in The Press last evening that the Glendale Horseshoe and Tourist Club was moving to new grounds is correct, but you have us located wrong. We have secured grounds just west of our last place in the same block, only corner of Central and Broadway instead of Orange and Broadway. The grounds will be graded in a few days and put in shape. There will be five pitching alleys and three croquet courts in good shape when completed. We will be glad to see all of our old friends as well as new ones, so if you wish to throw the shoe, knock the ball or use your brain on a game of checkers, join the gang.

INSPECT THE WIRING ON YOUR AUTOMOBILE

"If car owners would make a point of inspecting the wiring on their machines two or three times a year," says Mr. Kuhn of the Willard service station, "a lot of trouble would be avoided.

"There is no such thing as tightening a connection so that it will be sure to stay. The constant jar and sway of a car will sometimes succeed in working loose a nut that has been jammed down so tight that it seemed to be there for keeps. This is particularly likely to happen if there is slack in the wire so that it whips back and forth.

"It is quite common to find batteries that are under-charged for no other reason than neglect of the owner to keep connections tight between battery and generator."

PATHETIC DEATH OF MRS. N. V. TAYLOR

Exceptionally sad was the death of Mrs. Nondas V. Taylor, who was a new comer in Glendale, who had been living on North Cedar street. She was a native of the state of Washington and the wife of a mining engineer who is now in Mexico on his way home. Her death occurred at the Westlake hospital on March 23, following the birth of a son. Life had taken her to many places. Her 13-year-old daughter was born in Alaska, and an eight-year-old son in South America. The children are in care of an aunt who came from San Fernando to look after them during the illness of her niece. Funeral arrangements await the arrival of Mr. Taylor who is expected next Tuesday.

EXTRA TRAIN SERVICE SUNDAYS

The Glendale-Montrose railroad is spending about $4000 in the improvement of its roadbed, principally on the Montrose division. Beginning tomorrow extra train service will be provided on Sundays, the cars running every half hour instead of once an hour.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT FIRST METHODIST

At the First Methodist church, Sunday morning, in addition to the Easter sermon, there will be an elaborate musical program which will be followed by the baptism of infants and the admission to the church of about 50 adult members.

AUTOCRAT OF THE AIR

The miller at the old windmill of a village in Buckinghamshire found such difficulty in getting his sails to work through want of wind that he was continually behind with his work. The delay annoyed the farmers, who decided to call a meeting to consider the advisability of getting up another windmill.

Uninvited, the miller also attended the meeting, and in the midst of the discussion rose and said: "Ye want to get up another windmill, do ye? Well, it takes all the wind in the parish to keep my old mill goin', so you'll have to fish elsewhere for yer wind, that's sartain!"

This novel argument gave matters an unexpected turn, and to this day the miller has had no opposition.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Pity the poor school kids! Scranton, Pa., has ordered a specially built "dental" motor truck, which will be equipped with a dental chair, instrument cabinet and other paraphernalia of the dentist's office. It will "make" all the schools of the city, traveling constantly. School boards of other cities are now considering ordering similar tooth-saving equipment.

MRS. J. E. RIFENBERACK CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rifenberack of 264 Baker avenue, think it a mighty nice thing to have a mother and to celebrate her birthday. Thursday evening they made a feast and invited a few relatives and friends to come and make merry with them and their mother, Mrs. J. E. Rifenberack. It was a very happy dinner party and everyone had the best time, but no one more than "Mother," who knows that all the good wishes for her happiness and prosperity, of the guests, will come true this year.

JAMES APFFEL BUYS LAWRENCE HOUSE

A rather important realty transaction has recently been effected by J. W. Pearson, who has sold the two-story home of Mrs. E. L. Lawrence at the corner of Maryland and Lexington to James A. Apffel. For several years Mr. Apffel has been residing on the Valley View road, but has decided he wants a home closer in. He was recently elected esteemed loyal knight of the Elks' lodge. Mrs. Lawrence will give possession about the first of April, and will go to Los Angeles to live.

MRS. DELOS JONES TO BECOME RANCHERETTE

Mr. and Mrs. Delos Jones will soon move to their new home on Justin street, where they will rejoice in the possession of a half an acre of ground. Mrs. Jones achieved quite a reputation during the war for her operations as a farmerette when living on South Jackson street. She says now she expects to become a ranchette, and is already making big plans for gardening operations.

Special Notices

EXPRESSION OF THANKS FROM CAPTAIN THOS. D. WATSON.

The positions to which Dr. Harry V. Brown and I have been elected by the citizens of the Glendale Union High School district are important ones and I wish to express to the citizens of the district my sincere appreciation for the honor their votes signify.

The responsibilities and the duties of the office are much more important than the honor attached thereto, and in the performance of those duties I now and shall hereafter continually call upon the citizens of the district for their aid, to the end that I may efficiently and, as far as possible, satisfactorily perform those duties.

The campaign conducted by my friends was wholly an impersonal one, which held nothing but the friendliest consideration for all candidates, and I feel assured of the cooperation of all citizens in promoting the best for Glendale Union High School.

Sincerely,
THOS. D. WATSON.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION FROM DR. BROWN

Those who supported the candidacies of Captain Watson and myself for trustees of the Glendale Union High School deserve the profound thanks of this community for the interest they caused to be aroused in this important institution. It would be a great pleasure for me to thank each one individually, but the best I can do is to say that I do thank you all, including those who quietly made a personal sacrifice to do their bit. The Glendale Press and the Glendale Evening News are to be especially commended for their fairness to all candidates. The broad attitude of the newspapers helped greatly in making the contest a friendly one throughout. Our supporters, rather than ourselves, are to be congratulated upon the fact that their work is now completed, while ours has now just begun.

I believe we fully appreciate the responsibilities facing us in the next two years, and it is a good guess that we will take the job seriously enough to please the most exacting, because we are just naturally built that way. All together, now, for a bigger, better high school for Greater Glendale.

Sincerely,
HARRY V. BROWN.

ATTENTION SIR KNIGHTS!

All members of Glendale Commandery No. 53, K. T., are earnestly requested, and sojourning Sir Knights invited, to assemble at the Asylum Sunday, March 27, at 2:15 p. m. sharp, for the purpose of attending Easter services at Hollywood with Hollywood Commandery. Bring your auto.
